Introduction

Saeker have provided accredited safe moving and siting training to holiday park businesses for over 14 years. Developed by our founder John Biles, the course provides every delegate with practical hands-on learning and is widely regarded by our clients who include Bourne Leisure, Hoburne Holidays, Pure Leisure, Bunn Leisure, Lovat Parks Parkdean Resorts, Waterside Holidays, and many others as the best available learning experience on the market.

Delegates can expect to learn how to move, site and level caravans safely and correctly, thereby improving customer experience and reducing the likelihood of damage and unnecessary warranty claims. Our trainers will not only ensure that your employees learn the practical skills to move and site caravans safely, they will also ensure they are working efficiently, making best use of time and resources.

Brief course overview

Each course will cover the following elements:

- + Introduction to relevant health and safety legislation (work equipment, PPE, manual handling, lifting equipment, pressure systems, etc.) with simple case studies
- + Overview of chassis and caravan design relevant to safety and warranty protection
- + Understanding and practical application of risk assessment using our simple template, or your own
- + Towing safety and effective communication
- + The Golden rules for safe moving and siting
- + Practical instruction for safe moving, siting, leveling and de-siting single unit caravans
- + An awareness of craning, empty pitch safety and site license requirements

All coursework is supported by video hazard spotting exercises and extensive group discussion.

The Saeker moving and siting risk assessment template is provided for ongoing use by delegates after the course.

Assessment & certification

This is an integrated training and assessment programme. Each delegate is subject to continuous assessment during the course and there is a simple workbook and a risk assessment to complete for the portfolio of evidence. Successful completion of the course will lead to delegates receiving their Award certificate.

Costs

The fully inclusive fee (including certification) for each course held in mainland UK is £2,300. Each additional delegate over 6 up to the maximum of 10 is charged at £300.00. Fees quoted are exclusive of VAT.

Duration & timings

2 days contact time at the training venue.

Training venue

Courses are held on client premises.

Delegate entry requirements

There are no pre-course entry requirements. It is desirable for delegates to have some experience or awareness of moving and siting caravans, but this is not essential as full training will be provided.

Arrangements are in place for delegates who require learning support. Please contact us for further details.

Training venue requirements

A training venue with power and table space for each candidate. We also require a screen to project onto or TV to connect to. Delegates can expect to spend one day in the training venue and one day completing the practical elements.

For the practical element we require the use of a towing vehicle (with a competent driver), a single unit caravan in good towable condition, a suitable base, all work equipment e.g. jacks (with current certificate of examination) and levels, siting equipment including blocks, axle stands and ground boards. Personal protective equipment including protective footwear, bump cap, safety glasses or goggles and high visibility clothing will also be required for each delegate.

Arrangements for catering and refreshments will be agreed prior to the course.
